The Edward N. Brandt, Jr. Memorial Lecture was established jointly by the OU Hudson College of Public Health and the OU College of Medicine in honor of the late Dr. Edward N. Brandt, Jr., former Assistant Secretary of Health (1981-1984) and distinguished faculty at the University of Oklahoma. Brandt was perhaps best known for his contribution to public policy and public education during the beginning of the acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) crisis in the early 1980s while serving as the Assistant Secretary of Health at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).
